What's new:

Trent Braza's Last of Us is now complete, with the new album titled Incursion announcing early next week. "Shards of time we used to name our path through the dark, but eventually we stopped. Abandoned our family, let go of our parents, we walked away. Unable to hold on to the little we loved while never knowing why we didn't feel more, what we wanted, if that was what we needed. Now it's all around again, but no longer a distant dream, but a distant memory. It's everywhere. We're broke, it blindsides us, it's in our pockets, our minds, our futures, it controls us. The shard is coming. It never ends." The title of the album is indeed taken from this quote as well as the greatest obstacle the player will face. "We spent the last 4.5 years on the development of our story, and what we ultimately came to realize is we now have an amazing world and story to work with. Having said that, we are seeing a very small portion of that world in its entirety. There is still a great deal of content left to explore, in a certain narrative that we hope to continue to develop for many years to come. "While the world of Last of Us is a difficult place to deal with, that difficulty is ultimately what makes it such a fantastic place to play in. We feel like we have a great deal left to do to complete the journey through the darkness, and we cannot wait to continue." The composer, Trent Braza, has now promised that the track list for the studio album will be as follows: 1. Arrivals Of The Neon Forest 2. The Dark In Your Room 3. Purebred Worldview 4. The Travel In Time 5. A Family Lies In Shadows 6. A Family Lies In Shadows (Extended) 7. Salty Tears 8. Ambush 9. We Can Make This Right 10. Shadow Of A Hand Other notable things about the composition of this album are that Trent is performing all of the vocals with the exceptions of the chorus at the bridge of purebred worldview. More on that will be covered in a few minutes. The production value and fidelity of this album is outstanding. Trent does a fantastic job of making the studio really stand out and feel more like a place he was actually
