Add friends or groups of friends via other social networks PLOT OF ELDEN RING The world of Elden Ring, which lies between the dimensions of time and space, has been divided into many different dimensions. A tiny part of this dimension is the Old World. The Old World is divided into many nations, and most of them have developed a civilization. However, these nations struggle to survive, eternally repeating the struggle for survival and living for thousands of years. Rise, Tarnished: In this world, there was a legend called the "Elden Ring". This was a massive device composed of an array of 10 magical gems that was developed in ancient times, and was thought to be the only link that tied together the worlds. As the people in the Old World searched for the Elden Ring in the dark and mysterious lands, they might have reached the very ends of the universe and might have come across a another country, the Dragonspyre, which lies between reality and myth. The Dragonspyre, consisting of a slew of old countrys and a legendary castle with a legendary gem, is guarded by a beast called the

Q: How to assign list of aliases to alias in .bash_aliases file? I want to create aliases to simple locations, like alias c="cd ~/backups" alias w="cd ~/public_html/media/" This is based on this question Assign an alias for a special location. But doing alias c="cd ~/backups" alias w="cd ~/public_html/media/media" does not seem to work. Any suggestion? I tried the following program already: cd ~ alias c="cd ~/backups" alias w="cd ~/public_html/media/media" alias `c` /home/larseid/backup/fail2ban-2.9.0/fail2ban EDIT alias -a w gives the following output: w: --organize-by-accessibility autoloader --organize-by-accessibility autoloader-failregex --accessibility autoloader-failregex --autoloader zeus --autoloader kyotocabinet --autoloader tidyfe --autoloader w3m --autoloader lynx --autoloader w3m --autoloader links --autoloader dulwich --autoloader wc3m --autoloader evince --autoloader xdg-open --autoloader ffox --autoloader galeon --autoloader gxine --autoloader iceape --autoloader iceape --autoloader midori --autoloader epiphany --autoloader epiphany-browser --autoloader rv2ui --autoloader midori --autoloader midori --autoloader chrome --autoloader chromium --autoloader chrome --autoloader luakit --autoloader read --autoloader thunderbird --autoloader telegram-indicator --autoloader thunderbird --autoloader thunderbird --autoloader down --aut
