VerticalMinesWithSurroundNoiseObstacles.wmv E.H. ScottD & R: Undaunted. I needed a larger instance and a few more laser bolts. I went and got the full DM-6 kit out of the DSD and made a 2 level, three stage, vertical mines with surround noise obstacles. The laser will automatically target the cube, so the Cube Defender has to be in the central hex, but it can only target cubes, never hexes or walls. This version of the game does not have a calculator for the laser multiplier only laser bolt points. Game Features: 1. A random battle system. - All you have to do is wait for the line of battle screen to pop up, then press 'B' for the number of turns in advance you want to battle. - The battler's stats will appear after a while. - All battlers have different personalities, even if they are of the same class. - NPCs can be encountered as well! - Battlers are hard to win when they are in the spotlight of battle for a long time. - NPCs are easy to handle. - NPCs are automatically destroyed when they are in the spotlight of battle. (Of course, if you want to win a battler, you have to catch him off guard in the battle). 2. Customizable battle field. - A battle field is one of the most important things to have a game like this. - If you don't want to have large battlers fight on the same arena over and over, you can select a battle field of any size and date to be used in a single battle. - You can place any wall, plant and object in the battle field to be manipulated during a battle. - Also, you can modify the color of a battler's battler buster (the special move button used in PvP battles). - The battler will be able to attack after going through their customizable battle field. - The battler's battle field will be used for the whole game. - But... - The custom battle field will be removed when a specified battle field is chosen. 3. Battle against 4 other players online! - PvP battles in MMORPGs are often quite cruel. - In single player games, however, it's nice to be able to enjoy PvP battles without getting hurt. - So this is the idea behind this game. - In any battle against more than 4 opponents, there will be 13 battlers in total. 4. Completely customizable background. - Depending on the game settings, there may be a lot of battlers in the background of a map. - In a single screen, the background of the map can be customized to add a stronger atmosphere to the game. - A background with a lot of stars, clouds or a rainbow, can create an atmosphere of adventure or mystery, depending on the game. 5. Increase the size of your battlers or your battlers' battlers. - If your batt
