To support public policies that are directed towards the protection of children, the prevention of pregnancy and the control of sexually transmitted diseases and HIV/AIDS, the World Health Organization (WHO) designed the UNICEF/WHO/UNDP/UNFPA/World Bank Special Programme of Research, Development and Research Training in Human Reproduction (RDT-HP). Since 1981, the WHO/RDT-HP has been collaborating with various international associations to develop these programs in partnership with WHO member states, including Israel. The "Programme on Protection and Enhancement of Fertility and Family Health" started in 1981 in Jerusalem. In the joint meeting of the International Fertility Technical Assistance Consultative Meetings in Jerusalem, March 2-3, 1981, emphasis was placed on strategies for primary prevention of the sexual transmission of HIV/AIDS and on the use of infertility treatment to prepare "infertile" patients for conception. The results of the meeting led to a joint statement by the Jerusalem Meeting participants that laid the first Consultative Meeting on Fertility Control in the First World, the most prestigious of its kind held in Vienna, in 1983. For the first time, the July 1983 meeting with 54 participants from 22 countries, including representatives of WHO member states. The prevention of the sexual transmission of HIV and HIV-infected patients. Since then, the programme has been responsible for the preparation of several member states. Ask HN: Hosting a website on a separate server from your development environment - samarje I have my own development server with a number of related scripts, and I'd like to host a single page of my site (a list of job listings) on a separate server somewhere that is not connected to my development server.I'm guessing it will be easier to get to a list of job openings if I send them to a mail server. Is there a good way to set up a server that handles the mail and the job listings? The listings will be PHP scripts in an sqlite database.What I'm looking for is a web server that has an email server that's not part of the web server's service, and other servers that handle the database and the scripts.Is this type of thing common, and would someone be kind enough to point me in the right direction? ===== mgkimsal I don't know if it's common, but it'd be pretty simple to do something like trinet (www.trinet.com). Here's a great way to collect data into a database - and get a web interface for it from code you write: Q: How to use DisplayMemberPath with GroupStyle I use GroupStyle to present my grouped table view (see data I want to 6d1f23a050
