Interscience Publishers AE 868 pages. The transmission of electricity along a line of conductor starts with a line of potential in a free space. In this, an electrical potential difference is created by a generator, or any other electrical source in a free space. It is given by the relation,  $V(S) = \int \mathbf{E} \cdot d\mathbf{s}$ . Bending an electrical wire is an ideal practice of transmission line theory. The objectives of bending an electrical wire are mentioned below: To produce a return path for a plane wave by reflecting it at the load. To produce an isolation path for a high-frequency wave. To produce
