relates to retractable pins, and more specifically to a retractable pin employing a lever mechanism. Retractable pins are used for a variety of purposes including fastening a sleeve or other object to a drill, screwdriver, punch or other object having a hole in it. Retractable pins, in addition to being useful for temporarily attaching an object to a tool, are also useful for attaching two objects to one another. One example of a prior art retractable pin 10 is shown in FIGS. 1-3. The pin 10 includes a shaft 12 which has opposing end portions 16 and 18. A push button 20 is disposed on the end portion 16. The opposite end portion 18 has an enlarged head 22 and a downwardly extending generally conical portion 24 which opens toward the enlarged head c6a93da74d
