The state will also create a $5 million Flood Hazard Resilience Fund to better prepare communities and promote resilience. Disaster prevention includes improving schools, such as early warning systems and evacuation training. Funding will come from the state's recently enacted property tax reform. Extending this research, we've also created School Models. These quizzes are based on lessons in the book, Improv Your Career. The Quick Quiz, for example, leverages The Math of Career Success lesson on working with a group of strangers. At the end, for $0.99, you get a personalized printable certificate and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to send back results. Another quiz includes a behavioral economist quiz about happiness. And the last quiz looks at 29 behavioral patterns that have been linked to career success. We've sold these as websites and apps, as well as via our Data Discovery Shop, which stocks career-aligned research and education resources. We know working adults don't have the time or discipline to sort through them all, so we do the sifting for you. As a result, School Models has over 7,000 free lesson plans, including:

- Mindsets: You can learn (and maybe teach!) habits like optimism, resiliency, and self-confidence, as well as emotional regulation, stress management, and teamwork.
- Habits: You can improve focus, be more productive, do creative work, and boost your storytelling or networking skills.
- Jobs: Learn tips for succeeding in any role or job, from advertising to sales to management to ownership.
- Choices: Decide the best next step for your career.

School Models Rare Sets

im not saying that we should be competitive with our role models. i think role models are something that we should all be able to appreciate. that's why i think it's important that we have a diversity of role models. different people have different strengths and different weaknesses. so, it's important for a role model to show the students that they've got strengths and weaknesses. but the students also learn from someone like me. they can learn how to manage their time effectively. im doing my best every day. im not perfect. i make mistakes. and i can learn from those mistakes. i can learn from my successes as well. and i can learn from my failures. i can learn from my successes and failures. the students can learn a lot from all of us. so, i think it's important that we recognize that. i think its important that we encourage people in our schools and our communities to become role models. to be honest with ourselves, to be honest with our students, to be honest with ourselves. to be honest with our students. methods: we collected targeted or whole genome sequencing and conventional drug resistance phenotyping data from 3601 mycobacterium tuberculosis strains enriched for resistance to first- and second-line drugs, with 1228 multidrug resistant strains. we investigated the utility of (1) rare variants and variants known to be determinants of resistance for at least one drug and (2) machine and statistical learning architectures in predicting phenotypic drug resistance to 10 anti-tuberculosis drugs. specifically, we investigated multitask and single task wide and deep neural networks, a multilayer perceptron, regularized logistic regression, and random forest classifiers. 5ec8ef588b
