Toyota Motor North America, Inc. (TMNA), established in 1999, is responsible for marketing and sales activities in the United States. Toyota Motor Sales (TMS), a unit of TMNA, sells all types of Toyota and Lexus vehicles, as well as vehicle parts and accessories. Toyota (toyota.co.jp/en) launched the Prius in the U.S. in 1997 and today it is one of the world's leading zero-emissions vehicle (ZEV) brands. Toyota is dedicated to advancing the art of sustainable mobility and is committed to bringing innovative solutions to enhance the lives of people everywhere. Toyota explores new technologies and ideas, spurs fundamental and applied research, and invests in networks of people and partners who share its vision. Travis joined Toyota Ventures after serving for 3 years at Mitsu Bikes, where he was the head of distributed content, machine learning, and AI. Previously, he was the founder and CEO of Dentsai and chief education officer at Heptio. Travis has a diverse background in both the public and private sectors, including roles in quality assurance, information assurance, marketing, and management consulting. Prior to joining Toyota Ventures, Benjamin worked in product design and strategy roles at several companies. He has worked on the interior design of electric bikes and on the historical design of horses for historical society museums. Prior to joining Toyota Ventures, Brian co-founded Vento, a packaging application that managed the supply chain of a multi-unit e-commerce retailer. He also served in leadership roles at WaterNest, a food production system. Previously, he was a Vice President at Disney's Interactive Media Group, and was executive director of the Disney Innovation Lab, a 12-week student program for Disney's top college students. Brian has a Master's degree from The Ohio State University and Bachelor's degree in industrial design from the University of Oregon.
