GBLABS LUCA is designed to ease the work of tailoring shop owners, providing a user-friendly environment that allows the management of daily administrative tasks. It can be used for keeping track of the customer list, pending orders and generating job reports. Manage clients and tailoring jobs The interface displays a clean layout, with a window that allows one-click access to all the options. You start by entering the client's name and the contact details (address, city, state, date of birth, phone number). Creating a new job only requires the user to fill in a form by specifying the job ID number, the client's name, the requested delivery date and the trial date, as well as details concerning the payment (receipt account, total and paid amount). Optionally, users can enter personal notes in the 'Remark' field, which helps the worker get information about color preferences or other details. The 'Job Register' is the place where one can look for pending jobs and filter the search by various criteria, such as the ID, the worker that handles the task or the job status (completed, delivered, alteration, cancelled, assigned or not). Keep track of customers and the inventory GBLABS LUCA enables users to build a complete list of clients and workers, but it can also be of use in managing the inventory and the company's financial accounts. In order to protect the stored data, it can password-protect the database. Create complete reports The integrated report generator helps you view details concerning the account book, on-going task, the wages register, due payments or upcoming trials. Also, it can be used as a birthday reminder for clients and includes a client rating system.
